The target recipients shall be full- and part-time students who, in the previous academic year, achieved outstanding learning results. To receive the grant, a student shall be required to have earned no less than 45 credit points during that previous academic year. The sums of money awardable are defined according to the weighted grade point average (WGPA), with the relevant limits set as follows:

- a) CZK 5,000 if $WGPA = 1.00$;
- b) CZK 3,000 if $1.00 < WGPA \leq 1.10$;

- d) CZK 700 if $1.30 < WGPA \leq 1.50$.

The weighted grade point average shall be determined pursuant to Article 15 of the Study and Examination Rules of Brno University of Technology (BUT). In the University's information system, the resulting WGPA value shall be rounded to two decimal places. The scholarship shall be paid out monthly, for the duration from September 1 (2024) to June 30 (2025). Additional criteria regulating the scholarship-awarding procedures are set forth in Dean's Directive No. 7/2024, Scholarship Rules of the Faculty of Electrical Engineering and Communication (FEEC.).
